Nahar Poly Films and Brückner start up BOPP line

Nahar Poly Films Ltd. from India is an experienced film supplier with expertise in the production of specialty BOPP films. Now they have increased their production capabilities with an 8.7m 5-layer BOPP line from Brückner Maschinenbau. This line has recently been successfully commissioned. It is already the second Brückner line at Nahar Poly Films.

Sambhav Oswal, Director and Sanjay Madhukar Karandikar, Head of Plant Operations at Nahar Poly Films Ltd.: "We are very pleased that we were able to expand our plant park with another Brückner line. The start-up of our new BOPP line went smoothly and we are now equipped to serve the needs of our customers even better."

Johann Kreilinger, Head of Sales Subcontinent at Brückner Maschinenbau, says: "The highly motivated teams of Brückner in the Siegsdorf head office, our subsidiary in India and of course finally at site managed the challenges of this project, even during the difficult circumstances due to Corona. This is the result of a terrific team performance. A big thank you goes to our valuable customer Nahar Poly Films, who provided the best possible support at each individual stage of the project. Only together we all were able to successfully start Nahar's BOPP expansion project nearly in time."
